

Group Lesson

📅 Date	@June 18, 2023
☰ Multi-select
☰ Tags

"I cook myself": Emphasis on "who"

1. Who cooks in your household?
2. Who prepares the meals?
3. Do you rely on someone else to cook for you?
4. Are you the primary person responsible for cooking?
5. How often do you cook?
6. What kind of dishes do you cook?
7. Do you enjoy cooking?

"I cook by myself": Emphasis on "alone"

1. Do you prefer cooking alone or with others?
2. Are you comfortable cooking without any assistance?
3. Do you like having others help you in the kitchen?
4. Do you find cooking by yourself relaxing?
5. How did you learn to cook without any help?
6. Have you ever had a cooking partner before?
7. What is your favorite part about cooking by yourself?

How many weeks make a month? How many months make year.

- Make as "constitute"

英検

New Words

- bury
- landfill
- “end up with ~”

Question

- Cash is convenient for many people because it is easy to carry. At the same time, though, it (21). Another disadvantage is that criminals have been able to produce fake coins and bills.

1 can be lost or stolen 2 is used for shopping online
3 can be recycled 4 is understood by almost everyone

- At first, their use was limited to wealthy people. Over time, however, they became (22). In the last few years, apps for smartphones that can be used in the same way as credit cards have also become popular.

1 thinner and lighter 2 more colorful and exciting
3 harder to use 4 more widely available

Today's Idioms:

- Actions speak louder than words
- Once in a blue moon

"Raining cats and dogs"	If you and a friend are planning a picnic, but it starts raining heavily, you can say, "Looks like it's raining cats and dogs. Let's reschedule."
"Every cloud has a silver lining"	When a friend is going through a tough time, you can say, "I know it's hard now, but remember, every cloud has a silver lining."
"Let the cat out of the bag"	If someone accidentally reveals a surprise party plan, you can say, "You let the cat out of the bag! Now they know about the surprise."
"Actions speak louder than words"	When discussing a person's character, you can say, "I don't trust their promises. Actions speak louder than words."
"Once in a blue moon"	When talking about a friend who rarely goes out, you can say, "She's a homebody. She only goes out once in a blue moon."